

IN-Q is a National Poetry Slam Champion and multi-platinum songwriter. Recently named one of Oprah's SuperSoul 100 thought leaders, his groundbreaking performances include selling out the largest one-man poetry show in Los Angeles history, being the first spoken word artist to perform with Cirque Du Soleil, and being featured on HBO's Def Poetry Jam and A&E's Look Closer campaign. Several of his recent poetry videos have gone viral with over 50 million combined views.

As a songwriter, IN-Q's hit single "Love You Like a Love Song" by Selena Gomez went multi-platinum, winning him a BMI award. He has also written with renowned artists including Aloe Blacc, Miley Cyrus, Mike Posner, and Foster the People. His other work includes co-writing the Official Coca-Cola FIFA 2014 World Cup Anthem and being featured on "Good Life", from ZHU's Generation Why album. Combined, his songs have accumulated over 1 billion views on YouTube alone.

Leading organizations including Google, Facebook, IBM, Nike, Spotify, Lululemon, Shazam, Live Nation, The Grammy Foundation and many more have brought IN-Q in to lead his creativity and storytelling workshop and motivate their teams through his performance.

Ultimately IN-Q writes to entertain, inspire, and challenge his audiences to look deeper into the human experience and ask questions about themselves, their environment, and the world at large.
